

Tales of Clever Peter

Clever Peter mocks greedy bishop

There was a greedy bishop that lame and crippled frock for money. So Clever Peter thought to shame him in public. Took a donkey hung his tail a string of gold coins and took him to the Bishop. Bishop asked:

- Why are you leading this donkey well, Peter?
- Well it frock, old bishop!
- How will frock! So you should pop ass at? Clever Peter said:
- Donkey's, but is more vocal than your priests! Bishop was angry:
- Get out of here, that taking a neokastrena vostegarka will have to remember me! Clever Peter replied Rothko:
- Well, as pa thou wilt not, old bishop does not like! And he led the donkey back. But as glistening gold coins of the tail on the donkey, Bishop is greedy and cried:
- Well, Peter, come on, if it's so vocal, return it to frock!

Sly And Peter said:

- He grandfather bishop, but a little while ago! Now his voice hoarse! - And took his donkey.

Department and past, the priest spoke of the donkey, and the Bishop came nicknamed "Donkey bishop." And when he heard that all call him Donkey Bishop escaped three days away from this end!

Clever Peter is the hero of Mariovo folklore. As its name suggests it has the smarts and wit and even deceit. Rival in the stories about him is Nasreddin Hodja, the personification of the typical Turk. After the liberation of Balkan occupies its place in its modern version - Bai Ganjo. Unlike Bai Ganjo, which is sometimes considered vulgar, simple and having other negative qualities Clever Peter remained in the minds of Marivwc as a positive hero. Source: http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Itar_Pejo

MARIOVO